THE SESSION MODERATOR'S ROLE

Each session slot is allocated 105 minutes, with the total presentation time added up to be no more than 100 minutes. The moderator's role is to make sure the assigned session slot can progress smoothly.

The duties of the Session Moderator include the following:

1. Show up to the session 5-10 minutes before the session begins. Identify the presenters in advance, and introduce yourself. Remind each presenter of the time limits that apply, and describe the method you will use to alert them of time limits during the actual presentation.
2. At the start of the session, introduce yourself to the audience, announce the session/title.
3. Prior to each presentation, announce the paper's title, presenter's name and the affiliation.
4. During the presentations enforce time limits strictly so that no author (or audience member) monopolizes someone else's time.
5. Once presentations are complete, the remainder of the time can be used for informal discussion with session participants. It is the session monitor's job to organise the discussion.
6. Try to conduct the session as informally as possible (e.g., use first names when addressing participants and members of the audience) to encourage as much audience participation as possible.
