Speaker of Session 10

SUPERCAPACITORS

Pooi See Lee is an Associate Professor in the School of Materials Science and Engineering, Nanyang Technological University (NTU). She obtained her B. Sc.(Hons) and Ph.D. from the National University of Singapore. Her research work focuses on the theme of electrochemical- and electrical- inspired devices based on nanostructures and nanocomposites, for applications in electrochromics, energy storages, actuators, ferroelectrics, electrical memory devices, sensors, flexible and stretchable electronics. She serves as the Associate Chair in the School of Materials Science and Engineering, NTU.
